

Sailing Vacation – June 2012

4 Generations Sailing for the 2nd Year in a Row!

Dahl Porpoises Kept Us Company on the Way North

“We are enforcing a 1000 yard restricted zone”, the Coast Guard said to us.....

Car Carrier Meets Navy Ship

Skyler and Grandpa Roger Hang Out Below

Eric Trying Out Dad's New Camera (the old one broke ☹)

John Wayne Marina on Sequim Bay

Several Display Cases Had John Wayne Memorabilia (He donated the land for the marina.)

Dad Sailing Us Out to Dungeness Spit

Lighthouse on Dungeness Spit

Someone Getting a Tour??

Skyler and Tim Stay Out of the Rough Weather on the Way Back

Leaving Sequim Bay

Protection Island Wildlife Refuge

Several Harbor Seals Sunning Themselves While the Seagulls Hope to Scavenge an Easy Meal

Grandpa Roger at Port Ludlow

Nice Weather to Eat Outside at the Inn at Port Ludlow

Eric's Clams Had a Surprise, Alias Rock.(What is it with these trips and steamed clams?)

Blue Heron on the Dock in Port Ludlow

Port Ludlow has Another Kia Ora!

Evening Winding Down in Port Ludlow

Great Moon Reflection!

Kia Ora Settled in for the Night in Port Ludlow

Mount Baker was a Constant Companion on this Trip

This Doesn't Look Like the Typical Freighter, We Better Move!

US Navy Carrier John C. Stennis

Approaching Seattle

Back to Harbor Island

Video Clips (Large Files, Right Click and Select “Save Target As” to Put on Your Desktop):

Grandpa Roger Takes Us Out to Dungeness Spit:

http://home.comcast.net/~lrschultz/recent_events/june_sail_clip01.AVI

Skyler Sails Kia Ora from Port Ludlow

http://home.comcast.net/~lrschultz/recent_events/june_sail_clip02.AVI

US Navy Carrier John C Stennis in HD Video

http://home.comcast.net/~lrschultz/recent_events/june_sail_clip03.AVI